REAL-TIME DATA & INSIGHTS GO GLOBAL

TZA

Imagine if you could access your data and gain full visibility into your operations in real-time from anywhere in the world – the warehouse or plant floor, from a hotel room on a business trip, or even a sunny beach while vacationing. Picture having that data not only at your home location, but across your entire enterprise at the supervisor, department and facility levels.

Now imagine you can access that data from anywhere in the world, on any device – laptop, tablet, smart phone. Would going mobile make your job easier and give you peace of mind whenever you needed to be away?

ProTrack Labor Management Software allows actionable data and insights to go global, from wherever you are, on any device.

A Web/Cloud Based Solution for Your Business

Since labor can be up to 70%of operating costs, labor management technology is just as important as a WMS or forklift.

ProTrack allows everyone – from front-line managers to corporate executives – instant access to workforce performance and full visibility across the organization. With ProTrack Cloud, all the functionality that you need to keep tabs on and manage your workforce and operations exists wherever you are.

Data You Need From the Enterprise Dashboard

The average front-line manager spends 30 minutes or more each day generating reports just to get the data they need to manage the business.

The ProTrack Enterprise Dashboard feature provides real-time data with the ability for horizontal and vertical drill-down, plus "slice and dice" capabilities on the go. You have the flexibility to visualize performance in almost unlimited ways, transforming your data into actionable items to ensure knowledgeable business decisions.

Now, your front-line managers can get to the most pertinent data in a matter of seconds, allowing them to take that information with them while coaching and engaging associates at any time.

Quick Access to Your Workbench

ProTrack Workbench gives supervisors and management quick access to daily performance metrics, tasks and assignments from anywhere. It's a single-screen, customizable view of performance metrics, alerts and delay reports. From Workbench, you can drill down to detailed reports by department or facility, so you can make informed decisions more quickly, dramatically reducing the time it takes to review and complete daily tasks and activities.

Managers and corporate executives also have access to more than a dozen pre-built performance widgets, including:
• Cost Analysis
• Productivity and Utilization
• Team Performance
• Delay Approvals
• Observations

The data can be drilled down by department or facility and can be accessed anytime, anywhere.

Extended Performance Tracking with Kiosk

ProTrack's Kiosk feature gives you the ability to extend performance tracking to additional activities. Gain visibility into all areas of your facility, such as assembly, packing, labeling and kitting operations and administrative and quality assurance, for a more complete view of workforce productivity.

Plus, ProTrack Kiosk delivers comprehensive reporting on teams, activities and work orders by department or division, so you can see your entire enterprise from anywhere.

Address Problems Proactively with Alerting

Staying on top of performance metrics is critical to addressing small issues before they become bigger problems. But you can't always be at your desk or in the office to review those KPIs.

ProTrack provides users with 24/7 access to dynamic alerts and messaging from any mobile device – allowing managers, supervisors and executives to receive, review, acknowledge or escalate these alerts. ProTrack also provides secure access to your KPIs on the shop floor, in the warehouse, at a retail location or when traveling, extending decision-making information to improve labor productivity on a real-time basis.

The fully configurable Alerting feature allows you to establish thresholds for key performance metrics, system performance and almost any other activity being monitored. ProTrack then monitors your key metrics and sends you the specific data you requested at the specific time you requested it – by email, text or phone.

Let ProTrack Help

Achieve the next level of productivity and labor savings with ProTrack performance features that provide greater control, visibility and insight into workforce performance and engagement.

Whether you're a manager, supervisor, director or corporate executive, stay in-the-know and make informed data-driven business decisions from anywhere, anytime.
